To Find More Books about Collision Repair Operations

In the Madigan Library

Type a phrase (collision repair, auto refinishing, small business management, business operations, etc.) and select “words or phrase” from the drop down menu.

The screenshot shows a search interface with three radio buttons: "Keyword" (selected), "Browse", and "Exact". Below them is a search box containing the text "collision repair". To the right of the search box is a dropdown menu currently set to "words or phrase". A "Search" button is located to the right of the dropdown. Below the search box is a checkbox labeled "Search only Electronic Books" which is currently unchecked. At the bottom of the search area is a link labeled "Power Search".

Use WorldCat to identify books, videos and other materials owned by libraries around the world. Click on Borrow from another library to log into ILLiad and have the book sent to you. You may need to create an account in ILLiad if it's your first time using it.

Find Magazine & Journal Articles

Use the library databases ProQuest Career & Technical Education and/or Lexis Nexis to find articles relating to collision repair. For the business operations aspects of collision repair, use ABI Inform Research and/or ProQuest Research Library

Great websites

Body Shop Business magazine website containing body shop industry news

Automotive Body Repair News \(ABRN\) magazine website with product and service information

Hammer & Dolly Archive publication of the Washington Metropolitan Auto Body Association

TECH-COR research and training company for the collision repair field

Google Books allows you to search inside a book. Once you find a book, you can check if Penn College has it by clicking on the Find this book in a Library link.

Clusty.com searches for web sites and articles and “clusters” them by subject.

Citing Sources APA Style

Many databases will create a citation for you. Look for words like “Cite This” or “How to Cite” as a link to help you get your article cited. Also, you can use any of the tools at Citing Your Sources.
