

Marking Decades of Making a Difference

In one of her first remarks as president of Pennsylvania College of Technology, Davie Jane Gilmour revealed her leadership philosophy by stressing that “people make the difference.” In 20 years at the helm, Gilmour has truly made a difference to the college and surrounding community. A video slideshow of images, which premiered at the May 10 all-college meeting and has been added to the institution’s YouTube channel, helps commemorate her 20 years as president and 40th anniversary of being a proud Penn College employee.

Giving to Penn College

It has been an exciting year of opportunity for Penn College students because of support from our alumni. Whether your passion lies with scholarships, an academic program, athletics or unrestricted support – your financial support helps turn student dreams into reality.

Continued support from our alumni is vital to the success of our students while they earn degrees that work. If you haven’t made your gift this fiscal year, there is still time!

Two Alumni Honored at Penn College Commencements

Andrew S. Wisner, of Cumming, Georgia, formerly of York, received the Alumni Achievement Award on Friday, May 11. One of the youngest specialists in North America working on rotary kilns – the world's largest piece of process equipment – Wisner earned a Bachelor of Science degree in welding and fabrication engineering technology in 2008 and an Associate of Applied Science degree in welding technology in 2006.

Bradley G. Willis, of Harrisburg, formerly of Phillipsburg, New Jersey, was presented with the Volunteer of the Year Award. Willis earned a Bachelor of Science degree in heating, ventilation and air conditioning design technology in 2016 and is employed as a system applications engineer at Johnson Controls. During the past year, Willis has stood out with regard to both the quantity and quality of his volunteer experiences with his alma mater. His contributions through his employment at Johnson Controls have included: securing nearly $1,000 to support the Women in Construction event at Penn College and coordinating his company's product team in bringing a "road show" to the college to demonstrate for students the latest building automation system controls and hardware.

The Penn College representatives played a key role in food production for the exclusive clubs and suites overlooking the iconic track.

Volunteer Opportunities

"Volunteers do not necessarily have the time; they just have the heart."

-Elizabeth Andrew

Volunteers needed for upcoming events:

Welcome Weekend, August 18-Assist new students with moving into their residence halls.

Convocation, August 18-Help make the incoming students transition to college life even more memorable by lining the Rose Street Commons sidewalk with faculty, staff and administration. Students will process to Convocation as we offer support by cheering them on. Short remarks will be given by Dr. Gilmour and other administrators followed by a fireworks display. Please plan on arriving by 8 p.m. in your Penn College gear!

Open House, October 28-Provide directions, assist with registration check-in, ride the bus around campus, etc.

Let the Alumni Office know if you will be available to help at any of these events by emailing alumni@pct.edu.
