Alumni Highlight

College spotlights aviation alumnus at Chamber event

Christopher M. Gayman, a graduate of Pennsylvania College of Technology and OEM sales manager for Lycoming Engines, received an Alumni of the Year Award at the annual Education Celebration hosted by the Williamsport/Lycoming Chamber of Commerce. The award – part of an event that recognizes the essential collaboration among school districts, colleges, and business and industry – is given to a graduate who has made a significant contribution to the quality of life in Lycoming County, has excelled in his or her own profession, and is active in the community. Michael J. Reed, vice president for academic affairs/provost, presented the award to Gayman, who earned two degrees from Penn College: an associate degree in aviation technology and a bachelor's in aviation maintenance technology.

Alumni Events

Tickets Status

Hersheypark has informed us it has received our ticket order. However, due to the Governor's stay-at-home order, the tickets have not been printed or mailed to the Alumni Relations Office. Once we receive the tickets, we will immediately place them in the mail for our alumni. Tickets purchased through our office can be used through June 30, 2021. As of the date of this email, Hersheypark is planning on opening at the beginning of June. Visit the Hersheypark Covid-19 information website for more.
