

Lycoming Audubon Student Award

The Lycoming Audubon Society (LAS) is pleased to offer a $500 award to a student for activities in keeping with our mission: “To conserve and restore the natural ecosystem focusing on birds, other wildlife and habitats for the benefit of humanity and earth’s biological diversity.”

The Lycoming Audubon Society (LAS) Student Award is presented to an outstanding high school or college student who has demonstrated an interest in and action with birds and the environment or natural world. Preference will be given to students who at any time during the year have been engaged with LAS, including, but not limited to field trips, Chapter programs, tabling events, road clean-up, Earth Day advocacy, etc. Special consideration may also be given to students who wish to defray the costs of conservation workshops, ornithology conferences, Audubon Leadership Camps, or similar experiences.

Complete the form below to be considered for an LAS Student Award. Students are encouraged to apply for the award themselves, or they may be nominated by someone they know. Prior recipients are eligible to apply again in subsequent years. The scholarship is to be used for qualified educational expenses.
